

No. 29

No. 30

No. 31

colony, the site of which is preserved as a Tricentennial Exposition Center, Charles Towne Landing. Natives, with canoe, are seen at the water's edge and the moss draped live oak and the tangle of foliage reflect the land as it was and symbolizes the challenge of the strange new land that greeted the settlers.