

Bradford Observer - Thursday 12 December 1839

Jersey Currency

— There are only eight bankers in Jersey, yet there are 65 issuers of paper money. A gentleman lately received in payment of a debt of £75, one pound notes of 33 different firms. Despicable rags are flying about as cash, which nobody would pick up anywhere else; and notes keep going quite comfortably, long after their issuer has disappeared. The American 'shin plaster' is nothing to them.