

Illustrated London News - Saturday 04 March 1876

The Jersey States have passed a bill for withdrawing the present copper coinage of thirteen pence to the shilling, and making a fresh issue based on the English system. It intended to retain the existing style of coin bearing the Jersey arms on one side and the image of her Majesty on the other.