Yorkshire Post and Leeds Intelligencer - Tuesday 08 January 1884 FRENCH MONEY JERSEY.

The Jersey tradesmen complain of the increasing large circulation of French copper money in that island, and suggest that the States should pass an Act declaring such coin illegal tender. Since speculators have found it unprofitable to import French gold in order to profit by exchange, by reason of it now being taken only at a discount, they have turned their attention to the introduction of copper money, which, however, leave only a small margin profit.
