

Daily News (London) Tuesday 08 January 1924

JERSEY'S NEW COINAGE.

French coins, formerly recognized as currency in Jersey, were sent to the British Mint to be melted and reminted, and have now been issued as Jersey coins with a Tudor shield in place of the old Heraldic design, which dated from 1866 and was considered inartistic.